quest, and several very striking circumstances appeared to justify the suspicion of the woman having been murdered by strangling; upon which Sir William Strachan, who has been at great pains to detect this villainy, took the depositions anew, and committed Rodway to the tangle to be tried at the next assizes.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, Sept. 19.

"His Excellency Prince Gallitzin, Envoy Extraordinary from the Empress of Russia to their High Mightinesses, hath received the following news from Petersburg, dated the 28th ult.

"The son of Prince Dolgorouky is arrived here with the detail of the conquest of the Crimea, and at the same time brings advice that the whole Tartar nation of that Peninsula, after having signed the act of submission and taken the oaths, had proceeded to the election of a new Chan, and that the choice had fallen on the brother of Selim-Guiréy the former Chan, who had been named Caica-Chan, and his nephew Nouradin Chan. Their Deputies are hourly expected here. The old Chan Selim-Guiréy, who had sent his deputies with a Letter to the Commandant General, offering to send one or two of his sons as hostages to Petersburg, changed his mind all of a sudden, and embarked with his effects for Romelia, without waiting for the General's answer. The true motive of this sudden alteration in him is not yet known: Some attribute it to his dread and apprehensions of our troops, on their approaching Barczifaray; others say, that he hath taken this step in order to save his great possessions in the dominions of the Grand Signior."

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, Aug. 23.

"By a gentleman just arrived from Lisbon, by the way of Cork, we are informed, that, on his passage home, they were hailed by a large vessel, which showed Swedish colours, and were soon boarded by about twenty persons, commanded by an officer and attended by an interpreter. They were habited like Turks, and armed with pistols and sabres. The Portuguese Captain and his company gave themselves up for lost, not being in a condition for the least defence; but their fears subsided on their interpreter's acquainting them that they intended no harm; that their vessel belonged to Larache in Barbary, and was bound to Constantinople, having on board a quantity of money, for the payment of the Grand Seigneur's tribute; that they had been out five weeks, had suffered prodigious hardships, and threw most of their stores overboard in a storm off Cape St. Vincent; and were then in extreme want of provisions, not daring to put in at any port in Spain or Portugal. They requested as much beef and biscuit as could be spared, offering to pay any price; but the Captain refused taking money, and gave them several barrels of beef, butter, &c. with about a dozen large cheeses, with which they departed, returning many thanks; and when they got on board their own ship hoisted Barbary colours, and bore away to the S. W."

NEW-YORK, December 12.

On Tuesday Night the 3d Instant, the Sloop John Capt. Waddell, bound in from the West-Indies, was driven ashore at Sandy-Hook, and supposed to be hilted, the Captain by the slipping of his Foot fell overboard and was drowned, tho' all Endeavours were used to save him; his Brother, Mr. William Waddell, who leapt after him, narrowly escaped sharing the same Fate.

It was but the Thursday before, that Capt. Thomas Randall, Jun. coming in from Sea, was drowned at the same Place, being struck over by the Boom.

On Friday last died Mrs. Susanna Middleton, (Wife of Doct. Middleton, of this City) a Lady of an amiable Character, highly esteemed, and much lamented.

On Sunday the 19th Ult. two Negroes belonging to Mr. Rider, and one to Mr. Den. Dennis, of Long-Island, went a gunning in a Canoe. Next Day two of them were found dead in the Canoe, the other has not been found. It is supposed they all perished with cold.

The Duke of Cumberland Packet, which was to have sailed on Thursday last, was detained by the Weather till Monday, when likewise sail'd, the Ship Glasgow, Captain Marquis, for Lisbon.

The Brig Hope, Capt. Paul Miller, for London, only waits for a Wind.

The Ship Ellen, Capt. Clark, for Bristol, will be ready to sail on Sunday next.

Maxims concerning PATRIOTISM, by Dr. BERKLEY, the learned Bishop of Cloyne.

1. EVERY man, by consulting his own heart, may easily know whether he is, or is not, a Patriot; but it is not so easy for the bye-standers.

2. Being loud and vehement, either against a Court or for a Court, is no proof of Patriotism.

3. A man whose passion for money runs high, bids fair for being no Patriot. And he likewise, whose appetite is keen for power.

4. A native than a foreigner, a married man than a bachelor, a Believer than an Infidel, have a better chance for being Patriots.

5. It is impossible an Epicure should be a Patriot.

6. It is impossible a man who is false to his friends and neighbours should be true to the public.

7. Every knave is a thorough knave, and every thorough knave is a knave throughout.

8. A man who has no sense of God and conscience, would you make such a one a guardian to your child? If not, why a guardian to the state?

9. The love of praise and esteem may do something; but to make a true Patriot there must be an inward sense of duty and conscience.

10. Honesty, like other things, grows from its proper seed, good principles, early laid in the mind.

11. To be a good Patriot, a man must consider his countrymen as God's creatures, and himself as accountable for his acting towards them.

12. We are not to think every clamorous hanger-on, or every spirited repiner against the Court, is therefore a good Patriot.

13. A man rages, rails, and raves; I suspect his Patriotism.

14. The factious man is apt to mistake himself for the Patriot.

A SEARCHER.

BOSTON, December 2.

Governor Hutchinson has prorogued the General Assembly of this Province, to the 22d day of January next, then to meet at Harvard-College in Cambridge.

We hear from Tewksbury, that on the 7th ult. one Jeremiah Kidder, jun. of that town, a youth 18 years of age, being in pursuit of a hawk which had seized and was devouring a fowl in a thicket of bushes near the house; when he had crept within two rods distance from the place, one of his sisters, about 13 years of age, having unknown to him got there before him, was picking up the feathers of the fowl, when through the bushes he saw some of the hair of her head, which from the resemblance of colour he took to be the hawk, and fired at it. His father and another man, being near him, asked if he had killed the hawk; he said he believed he had, but going to the place, was soon convinced of his fatal mistake, and cried out that he had killed one of the children. The girl was carried into the house, not dead, but seemingly without feeling or sense, and though so terribly wounded in the head, continued to breathe in the same state of insensibility till the 9th day, when she expired. The verdict of the Coroner's Inquest was, that her death was accidental, and that her brother was the involuntary cause of it. The accident gave him the greatest grief and distress, which was aggravated by the uncharitable speeches of some malevolent people, who, without knowing the circumstances, ventured to pronounce that he ought to be hanged for it.

For the MASSACHUSETTS SPY.

Mr. THOMAS, Boston, Nov. 28.

I Was not a little surprised when I heard that Mr. Hutchinson had laid before the honourable board, the piece published in your paper of the 14th current, under the signature Mucius Scaevola, and that the King's Attorney was ordered to prosecute the publisher, and that a private Gentleman of this town should be cited to be interrogated relative to said publication. Until now I never heard that it was unlawful, barely to ask, and to desire the assistance of our fellow-citizens, in this important enquiry, Whether the person in the Chair is a lawful and constitutional Governor, yea or not? If an Officer arrests me in the street, I have a right to know from him whether he be in fact a lawful officer, if he refuses to satisfy me in this point, I have a right to resist him, unless it appear from the notoriety of his practice that he is an officer, and has been commonly submitted to. These enquiries are of the UTMOST IMPORTANCE to a FREE people, and this is all that Mucius intended in the offensive publication.

Indeed, I have said, "An Englishman should never part with a penny, but by his consent, or the consent of his agent, &c."—This certainly must be a harmless proposition, the truth of which is known by intuition, I assign'd a reason why we should not consent, viz. because "Money forced from us," meaning by the Revenue Act, is appropriated, in part at least, "to hire a man to tyrannize over us, whom his master calls our Governor." This idea was suggested in a ministerial paragraph, in a late London paper, in which it is intimated, that the sole reason, why the Ministry undertake to pay our Governor, &c. is because the pay or hire has always operated as a bribe, and that when they are hired by the people over whom they preside, they, having such a check, always favour the interest of the people. That the Minister, whom I have called his, that is Mr. Hutchinson's master, doth apply the money, forced from us by Revenue Acts, to this purpose, is very evident, and we have no reason to think that he can have any other intention than that mentioned in the said London paragraph. We also know, Mr. Hutchinson has refused his assent to a bill for his support. This shews his total independence on us. The paper that gives offence, says, "This SEEMS to be Mr. Hutchinson's situation, THEREFORE, (i. e. because he is independant) I cannot but view him as a Usurper, &c." this is proposed as a matter to be enquired into, and, the rule by which we are to try this opinion is the CHARTER, wherein this people reserved to themselves the privilege of paying Governors. It appears from hence, they compliment the King with the privilege of nominating and appointing only. That the paying Governors lies with the people, even by compact appears by the perpetual instructions which have been given to Governors to apply to the people for their wages or HIRE. Indeed I have this strong conclusion, which I supposed naturally followed the premises, viz. "until he does," that is stipulate with the people, "for his support," he is no legal Governor. If the premises and reasonings are false, Mr. Hutchinson must be acknowledged a constitutional Governor. I have not pretended to determine this matter, but refer it wholly to his Majesty's Council, upon whose shoulders the Government must rest, if it should appear to be true, that the minister has mistaken the Charter rule in the appointment of a Massachusetts Governor. There is nothing in all this, that has a tendency to disturb lawful and constitutional authority; I appeal to my Countrymen, whose peace, freedom, and happiness I esteem as my chief joy.

MUCIUS SCAEVOLA.

From the BOSTON GAZETTE.

Messieurs EDIT and GENT, I shall be obliged to you if you will publish the following Questions and Answers, in which are contained a material part of my political Creed. Your's, A Friend to a lawful Government.

Question. WHAT is Rebellion?

Answer. It is an opposition not to persons, tho' cried up by fawning flatterers as sons of Jupiter authorized from Heaven, or still more, as "born and educated in the Country"; but to authority, which is founded in the constitution and laws of the government.

Q. Who are Rebels?

A. Men by entering into society and civil government have excluded force: He therefore who sets up force against the constitution and the laws, does rebellion, that is rebel, or bring back into a state of war.

Q. Who are in the greatest danger of running into rebellion, or turning rebels?

A. Men in power.

Q. What is the properest way to prevent their falling into this sin?

A. To shew them plainly their Danger.

Q. What is the best fence against rebellion?

A. The Doctrine of a power in the people of providing for their safety a-new, when men in power have acted contrary to their trust by invading their liberty and property.

Q. How are the people then to provide for their safety?

A. Will not this doctrine be destructive of peace in society?

A. It may be as well said upon the same ground, that men may not oppose robbers or pirates, because this may occasion blood shed.

Q. When may the people provide for their own safety?

A. When they universally have a persuasion grounded upon manifest evidence, that designs are carrying on against their liberties.

Q. Must they wait till these designs are carried into full execution before they provide for their own safety?

NEWPORT, November 25.

Last Friday Conrad Flack, of this town, baker, was apprehended, on suspicion of his having mortally wounded his wife: His apprentice, Abi-ather Willson, who had got on board one of the packets to go to Providence, was also apprehended — Flack on Examination gave but a poor account of the affair, but by Willson's evidence it appeared, that about 11 o'clock the preceding night, a high quarrel arose between Flack and his wife, and that she called him many hard names, struck him, and threw a plate at him, upon which he caught up the tongs, and threw them at her with such a force that one end entered her right temple, and stuck fast in her head, upon which she fell, without speaking a word; Flack immediately ran out; Willson seeing his mistress fall, flew to her, but finding the tongs sticking in her head, he ran out after his master and told him he had killed his wife, and begged he would not run off and leave him; upon which they both returned into the house, raised Mrs. Flack up, pulled out the tongs, and bound some paper, &c. over the wound, and then Flack went for a Doctor, pretending his wife had fell with her head against the tongs; after the Doctor had been there and examined the wound, and Flack found there was no probability of his wife's recovering, he told Willson that he was afraid he should be brought into trou-early in the morning went on board one of the packets, but by some delay or other the packet had but just made sail and got a few rods from the wharf, when she was hailed by the Sheriff in quest of Willson.

Both Flack and Willson were committed to close jail after they were examined; and the woman died yesterday morning, having never spoke since she was wounded. The jury of inquest brought in their verdict Willful Murder,
by said Flack.

DECEMBER 2. We hear from Tiverton, that a most contagious distemper, among sheep,
rages there, as ever was known, it is called a Throat-Ail:—It is most mortal among fat
sheep, but store-sheep do not wholly escape:
They survive but a few minutes after they are first taken.

Friday last arrived here the Brig Diamond,
Capt. John Toman, in 22 days from Hispaniola;
who the 13th ult. took 12 Frenchmen off a raft
about league from the West Caucass, they having been cast away on said Caucass 9 days before; the same day he spoke with Capt. Monro, in a sloop bound to Providence, in this colony, and put 3 of the Frenchmen on board him, and brought the other 9 in here.

ANNAPOLIS, November 28.
We hear from Talbot County, that a few days ago, Messrs.
John Johnson and London Cunningham, two young gentlemen, went out in order to divert themselves with their sawing pieces, when unfortunately in climbing over a fence, Mr. Johnson's piece accidentally went off, and Mr. Cunningham being very near him, the whole load went in at one of his ears, and came out at the other.—Mr. Johnson's distress for this unhappy fate of his friend and acquaintance can hardly be conceived.

We also hear from the same county, that last week they had a most violent storm of wind, which blew down several houses, particularly the dwelling house of Mr. John Mark-land, near Oxford, by which one negro man was killed.

TO THE PRINTERS.
IF any of your readers will be so obliging as, in your next week's Gazette, to favour the public with answers to the following Queries, suggested by "An Advertiser," A supplementary additional
"Act to the Act for establishment of religious worship, &c. in this province," which I hear has already passed the Lower House, the favour will be gratefully acknowledged by many interested in the act, and, in particular,

1. Is not every free British subject, of whatever rank or order, in every part of the King's dominions, constitutionally entitled, "freely, quietly, and peaceably, to have and possess all privileges, franchises, and liberties, of free and liege
men in England?"
2. Is it not the undoubted privilege of every free British subject, ecclesiastic or layman, to be tried
"per judicium parium suorum?"
3. Is a layman, in the strict and legal sense of the word, peer to an ecclesiastic, in cases purely spiritual?
4. Is it not, in fact, incongruous and incompatible with a clergyman's oath of canonical obedience, which, in compliance with the laws of the land, he has been obliged to take, to submit to such lay jurisdiction?
5. Is there, at this day, a precedent in any part of the British Empire, of a law subjecting a cler-gyman of the church of England to be tried, for spiritual offences, by laymen?
6. Is not the making a law for this purpose, in this province, prohibited by the words of the charter, which require that "all ordinances, &c. shall be consonant to reason, and not contrary nor repugnant to the laws, statutes, or rights of the Kingdom of England?"
7. Will it not be a solecism in language, and almost a contradiction in terms, to call the established church of this province, the church of England, when it shall actually cease to be such, in so essential particular, as its constitutional discipline?
8. Is not almost any political evil that may be supposed to arise from the want of a due coercive power over the clergy, how much sorer to be lamented, more tolerable, than the seeking a remedy,
by ways and means unknown in our constitution,
and, as would seem, destructive of its very funda-mentals?

NEW-YORK, December 12.
Sunday Night the first Instant, died Mr. James Mills, of this City, in the 61st Year of his Age;
He was many Years Deputy-Sheriff in this Place,
and for the last 36 of his Life was Goaler here;
in which Station he behaved with the greatest Humanity and Tenderness to those poor Persons who were committed to his Custody.
Mr Francis Child is appointed Deputy Sheriff and Goaler in his Room, who, we make no doubt will acquit himself in his Station to the Satisfaction of the Publick.

Extract of a Letter from Capt. Joseph Crew, belonging to the Brig Ann, from Boston, for this Port, to a Gentleman in Town, dated Norwalk, December 4, 1772.

"This waits on you to advise you of my unhappy Situation and great Misfortune.—On the 1st Instant, about 12 o'Clock, coming into this Harbour, the Vessel struck on Green's Reef of Rocks, the Wind blowing strong about W. S.
W.—about 2 o'Clock it veered to W. and by N.
when we let go our Anchors, in order to keep her from going ashore, but could not clear the Rocks of either Side, it we cut;—thus we lay striking the Ground till Evening, when her Rudder
was ship'd, and the Wind increased to a high Storm, which continued all Night.—about 4 next Morning, found her Hold two Thirds full of Water
so that we were obliged to slip, and run her as far on the Shore as we could, in order to preserve our Lives.—the Wind continued strong to the Westward all next Day, and no Boat could come on Board, so that little of the Cargo is saved, and I fear the Vessel will be entirely lost."

On the 2d Instant, his Excellency the Governor issued a Proclamation, whereby the General Assembly of this Province, is prorogued till the 7th Day of January next, then to meet and proceed to Business.

Extract of Letter from a Person of Eminence in London, no less distinguished by his Piety, than literary Merit; to his Correspondent in this City, dated August 12, 1771.

"An American Episcopate is certainly wanted,—and if we have not Virtue and Sense of Religion enough to establish one, it may be apprehended that our Chastisement may, by the secret Conduct of God's Providence and Grace, turn to your spiritual Advantage; and our civil Feuds, Distresses and Emigrations, hereafter supply your Wants in this particular. With me however, I doubt not but you will readily join in earnest Wishes that Heaven may avert the Judgments we justly deserve, and that the Redress of your Grievances may not rest on this precarious Issue. There is Reason to think your Cause will not be taken into Consideration; the Subject indeed was dropped during the Heat of our late Party Rage, but is now more talked of than ever. It is the opinion of many, that sending Bishops to America is a Measure dictated by Motives of good Policy, as well as of Justice and Piety. These you may be assured are the Sentiments of several leading, judicious Men here,—of some in the Ministry, and of others who have no Connection with them. You do me but Justice when you suppose that I heartily wish Success to your Endeavours for procuring an Episcopate. I look upon it as the Want of an Essential; and I cannot conceive how any Person who is a Friend to religious Liberty, can oppose your Scheme, when the Bishops you desire are not to be vested with any temporal Powers, but with such only as are Spiritual. Bishops of this Sort can make no Innovations in civil Matters, nor can they possibly interfere with, or endanger the religious Rights or Privileges of others; and it will be found very difficult to assign any good Reason, why the national Church should not have that full Toleration which all other Denominations are indulged with in the Plantations, and thereby be raised to an Equality with them. You have my best Wishes in this Affair, which so nearly concerns the Welfare of the Church of God; nor shall my Endeavours be wanting to second yours, when they can be serviceable."

A CAUTION to the PUBLIC.
To beware of Counterfeit Money, several Kinds of which, both Gold and Paper, (New-York, and New-Jersey Bills) have lately been circulated, particularly, Half Joes, which tho' of due Weight, have in each, 12s. Sterling of base Metal; and New-Jersey 30s. Bills dated the 16th of April 1764.

The Counterfeits of the Half Joes, are somewhat thicker, the Figures less prominent, and the Colour paler than the true ones.

The Counterfeits of the 30s. Jersey Bills, have the following Marks of Distinction, Viz.

True Bills.	Counterfeits.
Paper—of a Yellowish, No.—Plain and distinct.	A Bleuish cast, Indistinct.
Sage Leaf, perfect, spread- ing from the Stem.	Imperfect, the part where it rises from the Stem cut off.
Arms—Blur'd and in- distinct.	Distinct and plain.
Border blur'd and indis- tinct.	Plain and open, resembling a Vine with Leaves.
Red Letters, Lighter, Letters, more perfectly form'd and proportionable.	Deeper of a purple Cast, ill formed, disproportion- ate, and stand irregularly especially in the word Shillings, at the Top of the Bill.

Sunday in the Forenoon an excellent Sermon was preached at St. George's-Chapel, by the Rev. Mr. Ogilvie, and a handsome Collection made for the Benefit of the Charity-School;
and next Sunday in the Forenoon, another Charity Sermon will be preached at St. Paul's, and a Collection made for the like Purpose.

Charity Sermons were preached in both the Presbyterian Churches in this City, in the Afternoon of Sunday the first Instant, and handsome Collections made for the Use of the Poor.

POET'S CORNER.

On WINTER.

NOW shivering nature mourns her ravag'd charms,
And sinks supine in winter's frozen arms:
No gaudy banks delight the ravish'd eye,
But northern breezes whistle through the sky:
No joyful choirs to hail the rising day,
But the hoarse crystal warps the leafless spray:
Strown look the meadows that were late so fine,
And, capp'd with ice, the distant mountains shine:
The silent linnet views the gloomy sky,
Sculks to his hawthorn, nor attempts to fly:
Then heavy clouds send down the feather'd snow;
Through naked trees the hollow tempests blow:
The shepherd sighs, but not his sighs prevail;
To the soft snow succeeds the rushing hail:
And these white prospects soon resign their room
To melting showers, or unpleasing gloom:
The nymphs and swains their aching fingers blow,
Shun the cold rains, and bleat the kinder snow:
While the faint travellers around them see
Here heaps of mud, and there a leafless tree:
No budding leaves, no honey-suckle gay,
Cowslips nor daisies, paint the dreary way,
The lark sits mournful as afraid to rise,
And the sad finch his softer song denies.

VENICE, August 31.

MANY letters confirm the destruction of the Turkish fleet, near the Isle of Lemnos, by the Russians, who, it is expected, will soon be masters of the Island.

Leghorn, Sept. 4. Yesterday an English packet arrived here with two Russian frigates from Paros. They brought letters, dated the 1st of August, by which we find that the Admirals Spiridoff and Arf were at the said Island, as likewise Count Orlov, who was returned thither, without meeting the Turkish fleet, which is not yet failed out of the Dardanelles. Thus the accounts we had some time ago of a sea fight in the haven of Modron, are not confirmed.

Vienna, Sept. 7. All the troops which form the camp at Pest in Hungary, will decamp about the 16th instant. A detachment of 30,000 of them is to be sent to reinforce the line of troops upon the frontiers of Poland.

Copenhagen, Sept. 14. The rainy weather continues with hardly any intermission, and it is feared the badness of the harvest will raise the prices of provisions to a very great height.

Paris, Sept. 16. They write from Bourdeaux, that the Marshal de Richelieu, before his arrival there, had sent three letters de cachet, one for the first President of the Parliament, the second for the Attorney-General, and the third for one of the Advocates-General, banishing them to different places.

L O N D O N.

Sept. 17. It is said that Dudley will be prosecuted by the Ministry for a defraud (if he fails in his assertion) as they can prove he has obtained money from them under false pretence.

Letters from Vienna mention, that all the frontier towns of the Empire are ordered to be surveyed and fortified, and to be well supplied with magazines and warlike stores.

A Writer in one of this Morning's Papers positively says: The most effectual measures are resolved upon to retrieve the very ruinous situation of the East India Company's affairs. The 400,000l. to government is to be, for the present, struck off by consent; and the dividend to the Proprietors, is to be reduced 50 per cent. The Parliament is to meet in November, to inquire into the right of the Company to a territorial revenue, and to examine into the management of their servants abroad. Three Supervisors are to be sent by parliamentary authority to regulate the affairs of the East; and coercive laws are to be made to restrain the avarice, and punish the crimes of individuals, both in the Government and the Company's service in the East Indies. These are facts on which the Public may depend.

It is positively asserted, that the Ministry are determined not to interfere in the least on the approaching election for Lord Mayor; and are perfectly indifferent on whom the choice may fall.

As soon as the races in the various parts of the kingdom are finished, the Ministry will be at liberty to consider the state of the nation, which appears somewhat critical.

On Saturday night the man who was sent down to make a discovery of the persons concerned in setting Portsmouth dock on fire, was brought back to town; his information, it is said, amounts to nothing; and he is now in custody of a messenger in Pall Mall.

Sept. 18. A gentleman, of fortune, famous for his mechanical abilities, has lately presented his Majesty with a cane, in the head of which is contained a watch that will go 21 days without winding up.

Sept. 20. The public may be assured, that the Ministry are in actual possession of other information respecting the congregation of Portsmouth dock, than what has been given them either by Dudley or Britain; and that the said information will be scrupulously discussed at the meeting of the Parliament, when some great men will be called to account for their wilful negligence in suffering not only Count de Guignes, but some other persons, employed by the French Court, to withdraw themselves from this kingdom subsequent to such information.

The Earl of Bute was yesterday at St. James's, and assisted at the council.

SEPTEMBER 23.

On Thursday last a pair of very beautiful birds, which were brought from King George's Island, in the South Sea, were made a present to her Majesty, by one Mr. Hervey; they are of a bright green colour, curiously variegated with yellow and brown, with red beaks and feet; and are about the size of a dove. They were sent on Friday to Richmond.

A certain Nobleman (Lord H.) has no less than eight mistresses in one house near St. James's.

There is no foundation whatever in the report of Spain's having restored Louisiana to the French; on the contrary, the Spaniards are securing the country to themselves by every possible means, and have practised some cruelties on the French settlers in that part of the world, perfectly similar to their first efforts in peopling Mexico.

There is no intention of Lord Clive's being sent out again to India; nor would his Lordship's state of health allow him to close with any proposal of that kind; therefore the reports relative to his re-visitation of Bengal are totally groundless, and nothing but news-paper manufacture, to supply a scarcity of intelligence.

There is now living in King-street, Soho, one Mrs. Laffoe, Baker, (widow of the late Mr. Laffoe) who is a seventeenth daughter; her sixteen sisters and seven brothers (all by the same father and mother) are likewise all alive and well.

Lord Sandwich, we hear, has lately affirmed, that nothing can be more foolish in Government than throwing away money upon elections. "What signifies who is member (said his Lordship) is he not to be had when he comes into the house?"

Politics were yesterday opened at several Coffee-Houses about the Royal Exchange, offering ten guineas if the present Lord-Mayor is re-elected to serve the said office for the year ensuing.

Sept. 25. Monday evening there was a numerous meeting of Livery-men, in consequence of two advertisements inserted in the papers, in order to consider of proper persons to be returned to the Court of Aldermen for the office of Lord Mayor for the year ensuing. Mr. Deputy Cockledge was called to the chair, and after some management by the friends of Mr. Wilkes to prevent joining Messrs. Townsend and Sawbridge together, each of the Aldermen who had been named were separately proposed, and upon the divisions there were the following numbers:

	for	against
Lord Mayor	151	51
Townsend	111	97
Sawbridge	153	59

There were about eight hands held up for Mr. Bridgen. The numbers of Liverymen who attended amounted to about 212, amongst whom were a very considerable part of the staunch friends and partisans of Mr. Wilkes.

The emissaries of our old enemy the French, as well as the Jacobite Ministers, are attempting to destroy all credit of the Portsmouth story, by filling the Papers with improbable lies and ridiculous witticisms, upon this serious business. It is certain, some of the store-houses were destroyed: It is certain, the fire broke out in different places at once, and was occasioned by design; and it is no less certain, that unless prevented by industry, and the favour of Providence, the mischief had spread to the whole yard; and the nation been exposed to the malice of our inveterate foe, the mean insidious French. Is this an object of laughter to Englishmen? Does not every man in the island shudder at the the story but a false Scot, and a Scottish Jacobite, the curse of England and the tools of France.

It is now asserted for certain, that no change whatever will take place in A———n, at least till next Spring, a truth which the generality of the public are very unwilling to imbibe after all their late high-raised expectations.

It is said, that a certain great Officer was wholly disregarded last levee day, notwithstanding the many efforts to attract observation, from which it is conjectured that his prosperous star is set never to rise again.

SALEM, November 19.

Extract of a letter from a master of a vessel at James River, Virginia, to his owner in this town, dated October 21, 1771, which is published as a caution to those who send vessels to Virginia or Maryland.

"There is a man of war and two tenders, who keep constantly cruising between the Capes; they board all vessels, and are very severe in searching the same: They seized a brig from Lisbon, which vessel and cargo is condemned; they also seized two sloops, which come on trial in a few days; so that it behoves all owners, sending this way, to be very careful that the whole of their cargoes are properly cleared."
